

Community Meeting to Discuss Traffic Concerns on Grandin Avenue

Thursday, February 22, 2007

7 - 9 p.m.

Glenview Mansion
603 Edmonston Drive

As part of an ongoing effort to protect neighborhoods and create an exceptional built environment, Rockville is holding a community meeting to discuss options to address traffic speeds and volume along Grandin Avenue.

In Summer 2006 City staff sent a survey to residents who live along Grandin Avenue between Reading Terrace and Nimitz Avenue. The survey asked residents to rank their preferences for traffic calming and traffic diversion measures.

Please join your neighbors on February 22 to discuss:

- Survey results
- Options for traffic calming (slowing speeds)
- Options for traffic diversion (reducing the number of cars on Grandin Avenue.)

Rockville's Public Works staff will use your feedback to prepare preliminary concept designs to be brought back to the community at a later date for further comment and discussion.

If you have any questions about the project or need special assistance to attend this meeting, contact Katherine Kelly, a Rockville transportation planner, at:
